

1. Abstract

ANIMAE is a decentralized protocol born to recognize, protect, and elevate the emotional identity of human beings in an era dominated by cognitive automation.

Through the SoullID — a non-transferable, personal, and living token — each person can symbolically and permanently register a fragment of their inner self: emotions, intuitions, or moments of clarity.

In a world where AI increasingly simulates human behavior, ANIMAE sets a new standard: the standard of non-replicable authenticity.

It offers an ethical, poetic, and technological space where identity is defined not by data, but by what makes us unique.

With ANIMAE, emotional identity becomes recognizable, non-monetizable, and non-falsifiable. A cultural protocol, before being a technical one. A human response to the rise of machines.

2. Vision

We live in an age of dematerialization: identity is reduced to visible, tradeable, and optimized data. Our digital profiles reflect what we do, buy, or who we interact with — not who we truly are.

As AI becomes more capable of simulating language, tone, and emotion, a fundamental question arises:

What remains truly ours, irreproducible, and unsellable?

ANIMAE answers this question. It's not an app or a social network — it's a cultural and technological protocol that places the human emotional dimension at its core.

With SoullID, we imagine a new kind of passport: not demographic or financial, but intuitive and existential.

A passport that grows through introspection, symbolism, and inner choices. A world where individuals, brands, and communities connect through resonance — not revenue.

3. The Problem

Today's digital identity is a mask: a mosaic of data collected, tracked, and monetized by centralized systems. We are defined by usernames, clicks, biometrics not by emotion.

AI can now imitate almost everything. But not what we feel inside.

There is no system today that lets us affirm who we are based on what we feel. ANIMAE exists to solve that.

4. The Solution: SoullD & ANIMAE

ANIMAE introduces SoullD: a Soulbound Token unique and non-transferable that represents a real emotional moment.

Each SoullD is generated through personal introspection and minted on the blockchain with symbolic metadata.

ANIMAE is not a collectible, not a profile, not a product. It's a symbolic act of authenticity. Lightweight, but radical. Collective, extensible, and integrable into Web3 and cultural spaces.

5. The Technical Protocol

SoullD is an SBT on Ethereum. Each token includes metadata hosted on IPFS with a description, emotion, symbol, and timestamp.

Minting is done via smart contract and is non-transferable. Governance is through Snapshot DAO. Future versions will allow dynamic minting, ZK proofs, and compatibility with DID/VC frameworks.

6. DAO and Ethical Governance

The SoulDAO is an ethical community that governs the protocol. Entry is granted via SoullD. Each member is a custodian of the project's core values.

Decisions include new emotions to be minted, collective rituals, and project evolution. No power, just presence.

We don't vote to win. We vote to protect.

7. Ethics, Manifesto & Universal Values

The ANIMAE Manifesto declares the emotional identity as a cultural good.

Key principles: authenticity, non-monetization, non-manipulation, inner sovereignty, symbolic design.

The goal is to offer a universal grammar for emotional identity in digital spaces.

8. Roadmap

Q2 2025 Genesis: deploy smart contract, launch SoullD minting and DAO applications.

Q3 Q4 2025 Ecosystem: dynamic SoullD generation, integration with Lovable, community growth.

2026 Expansion: ENS/DID support, symbolic rituals, partnerships with cultural institutions.

2027+ Global Standard: formal recognition of SoullD as symbolic identity passport.

9. Use Cases

- Individuals: symbolic minting as a rite of presence.
- Communities: resonance-based spaces.
- Events: emotional record instead of merchandise.
- Ethical brands: identity-based experiences.
- Education: emotional awareness through ritual.

10. Credits, Team & Horizon

ANIMAE began with a simple question: What will remain of us when everything is replicable?

It was born not to create a platform, but to protect a truth. The project is stewarded by a growing collective of humans who believe in emotional integrity.

How to participate:

- Mint a SoullD
- Join the DAO
- Vote with care
- Protect what is invisible

The future is not a password. It is a presence.